

Workmanship Warranty

1. Green Engineering warrants that the product installation shall be carried out by licensed electrician and in compliance with Australian Law.
2. Green Engineering products are warranted by their respective manufacturers and distributors. Full details of these warranties are available on request and are provided at the time of installation.
3. Green Engineering endeavours to install any product in a position that is likely to maximize its performance. Green Engineering does not guarantee the performance of any products and accepts no responsibility if the performance is lower than anticipated.
4. Green Engineering provides a 1-year warranty for any damages in the property caused by installation of the system. Green Engineering Pty Ltd will be liable for damages on the roof and/or any part of the property so long as it was proven that the damages are a result of the solar installation.
5. Green Engineering workmanship warranty includes a 1-year cover for parts and accessories used in the installation of the solar system. They will be fixed or replaced accordingly, provided that the failure is not caused by human, nature and/or other physical damages.
